Soul Writing: Conversing With Your Higher Self

With Joanne DiMaggio, M.A.

Saturday, August 13, 2011

1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

$15 per person

Unity Church - 2825 Hydraulic Road—Charlottesville

When faced with life's big questions, we often find ourselves wishing for a guidebook, a manual to help us through the important decisions. But as Joanne so clearly points out, we do have access to all the answers we need. The process of connecting to the sacred wisdom within us—that part of us that has our answers—is always available through soul writing.

Joanne will lead this experiential workshop, drawing upon her own experiences and her knowledge of the Edgar Cayce readings to inform and support the quest for self-discovery. With clear instructions on the soul writing process, examples of others' experiences, and information on how to expand this process into other areas of your life, you will learn to access that deep knowing you hold within. Bring a journal and your favorite writing instrument and see what answers are there, just waiting for you to slow down, open your heart, and ask!

This marks the premiere of Joanne's new book, which will be available for sale and for book signings after the program! If you cannot make the August 13 workshop, the book also will be available at future programs as well as on www.oldsoulspress.com

Jim will be available to sign his book "Edgar Cayce and the Cosmos" after the program!

James Mullaney has collected and analyzed the Edgar Cayce readings related to the cosmos, both in the light of modern astronomical and cosmological knowledge and the most recent discoveries in these fascinating fields.

In this program, Jim will show that Edgar Cayce was tapping into the vast akashic records of the universe and the incredible cosmic consciousness that lies behind creation at its grandest.

If weather permits, we will go outside after the program and view the stars through Jim's telescope!

About Our Speaker

James Mullaney is an astronomy writer, lecturer and consultant who has published more than 700 articles and eight books on observing the wonders of the heavens, and logged over 20,000 hours of stargazing time with the unaided eye, binoculars and telescopes.

Formerly Curator of the Buhl Planetarium & Institute of Popular Science in Pittsburgh and more recently Director of the DuPont Planetarium, he served as staff astronomer at the University of Pittsburgh's Allegheny Observatory and as an editor for Sky & Telescope magazine.

One of the contributors to Carl Sagan's award-winning Cosmos PBS-Television series, his work has received recognition over the years from such notables (and fellow stargazers) as Sir Arthur Clarke, Johnny Carson, Ray Bradbury, Dr. Wernher von Braun, and former student NASA scientist/ astronaut Dr. Jay Abt.

His 50 year mission as a "celestial evangelist" has been to "Celebrate the Universe!" - to get others to look up at the majesty of the night sky and to personally experience the joys of stargazing.

In recognition of his work he has been elected a Fellow of the prestigious Royal Astronomical Society of London.

Finding Your Soul's Purpose Through Soul Writing and Past Life Regression

With Joanne DiMaggio, M.A.

Last October, Joanne premiered this workshop to rave reviews. She has tweaked it a bit and is presenting it again in a new format focusing on finding your soul's purpose through soul writing and past life regression.

Edgar Cayce gave 1900 life readings between 1923-1944. People came to Cayce for these readings because something in everyone is hungry for a sense of meaning: for some purpose of being.

The Cayce life readings described how each soul is born with a unique mission in life—that every one of us is specially equipped with talents and abilities that give us the potential to make a needed contribution to the world. One familiar adage of the Cayce readings was: Be not only good, but be good for something.

This full-day workshop at the comfortable Forest Lakes Pavilion will enable you to discover your life's purpose in two unique ways, both using a form of meditation. Through soul writing, you will contact your higher self, guides, angels, or Source to ask for more information about your purpose in this life. And then through a past life regression designed to gather helpful resources from the past, you will be able to clarify your understanding of your soul's purpose to help you live it more fully.

Throughout the day you will engage in exercises that will help you define your purpose and deepen that understanding through your interaction with others in the group. By the end of the afternoon, you will write your soul's own Mission Statement.

Here are some of the comments from last year's workshop:

"Lots of great content! It flowed well and I learned a lot—a couple of insights I received made a lot of sense."

"Joanne had a wealth of information to share. She was well-spoken, eloquent, lively and fun!"

"Great information, clearly presented. Her personal stories added to my understanding."

"Loved everything!! Very casual and relaxed!"

"A 10 out of 10 for me for content and delivery!"

"Joanne is a knowledgeable, confident speaker. Very talented in bringing together resources."

"Loved the anecdotal stories from her own life. Very entertaining without dragging presentation down (pertinent rather than ego driven). Material was insightful, yet not redundant for the level of knowledge & experience of majority of participants."

First Annual A.R.E. Charlottesville Networking Fair

Have you ever sought out a service or product provider—anyone from a Realtor to a chiropractor to a massage therapist to a handyman, banker or lawyer—and wished you could find someone who was like-minded (or like-Idealed!)?

That is the premise behind our first annual networking fair—to give our members a forum in which to advertise their services to other members for their mutual benefit.

I did this in Chicago when I was with the A.R.E. Heartland region and it was a huge success, so I thought I'd bring it to Charlottesville.

It works like this. We will use both the Forest Lakes Pavilion and the Club House. In the Club House will be booths (tables) where A.R.E. members can advertise their products or services like a trade show. Visitors can walk from table to table and learn about all these services and products first-hand.

Over in the Pavilion, we will have talks rotating every 45 minutes or so, in which the individuals who have a booth can demonstrate and/or discuss their product or service.

The public will be invited to walk through the exhibit room and attend as many of the talks as they desire throughout the day.

We will be sending out information soon about registering and buying a table at this event.

This is a great time to share your services and products with fellow members and friends.

Those of you with products can sell them and those with services can give gift certificates just in time for the holidays.

Easy, one-stop shopping!

If you're interested in participating, please contact me (Joanne) by email: are.cville@gmail.com or phone: 434-242-7348.

T.J. Davis Takes Series On the Road

T.J. Davis, nephew of Edgar Cayce's secretary, Gladys Davis, is taking his highly acclaimed series, "Remembering Edgar Cayce" on the road and presenting it to A.R.E. groups in outlying areas. On July 9, he gave a talk to close to 35 people who gathered in Gloucester to hear the story of his remarkable childhood growing up in the Cayce household.

If you are interested in having T.J. talk in your area, contact Joanne at are.cville@gmail.com or call 434-242-7348.

Please include information on what venues are available in your area where the program can be held. A private home with a large living or family room works well for this informal gathering.

Baar Products Now Available Through Us!

As a service to our members and guests, the A.R.E. Charlottesville area will now be selling a limited number of products produced by Baar™, the official worldwide exclusive supplier of Edgar Cayce Health Care Products. Baar Products, Inc. has worked closely with the A.R.E. to ensure the original formulas are used whenever possible. For over 60 years, people have testified to the helpfulness of these products in resolving specific health concerns and restoring the body to balance and well-being.

Products like Atomic Iodine that are marked as “Cayce Formula” are exact duplications of a formula originally given by Edgar Cayce. Those marked “Cayce Product” indicates they are products recommended by Edgar Cayce or based on his concepts. Some were sold in drugstores during his lifetime. Others are modifications of original Cayce formulas and others still are based on ingredients he often recommended. All ingredients are natural and the formulation processes meet the high standards Baar customers have come to expect and desire.

In addition to selling them at a discounted price at all A.R.E. Charlottesville programs, T.J. Davis, who has personal knowledge of the Cayce health readings and is familiar with these products, is available to make a presentation about the products to your friends and family at your home or office. Products can be picked up at our office on East Market Street, at our programs at Unity Church or the Forest Lakes Pavilion, or for a small fee, personally delivered to individuals within the Charlottesville area. Check or cash only, please.

Here is what we'll have in stock:

Atomic Iodine - Edgar Cayce formula, antiseptic solution, for cuts, boils, bites and more. #161 $17.95 2 oz.

Is it Time For A Center of Our Own?

Many of us believe that now more than ever we should be turning to the Cayce readings for guidance on how to best be of service to each other and this planet during these troubled times. To that end, we have discussed the feasibility of starting a “Center” where like-minded souls could gather to study the readings; have access to the Cayce material via books and products for sale; have a space for classes, workshops, conferences and study groups; and have private offices that Cayce practitioners could rent on a daily or monthly basis to share their skills with other seekers.

Having owned a holistic center in Naperville, Illinois called Kindred Spirits, and having experience in what I call the “Metaphysical Real Estate Syndrome” I am aware of the difficulties in pulling something like this together. I know the amount of funding it requires to keep it going and the kind of talent and more importantly, spiritual intent, that has to be behind it in order for it to succeed. Dreams are one thing. The day-to-day reality of this kind of commitment is another.

While we have a realistic understanding that this challenging economy may not be the most idyllic time to start a center, we feel it is exactly this kind of an atmosphere in which the sharing of Mr. Cayce’s wisdom becomes that much more urgent.

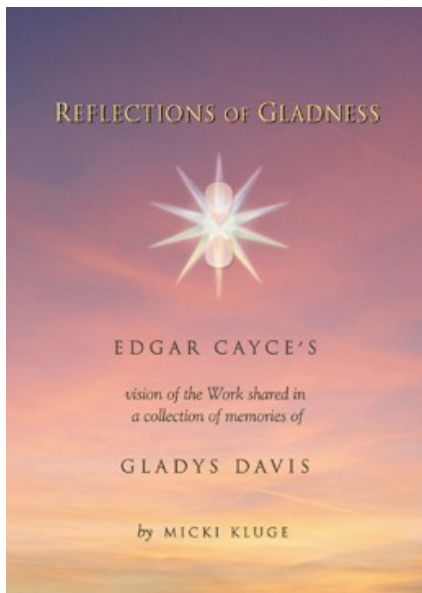

If we do this, we’re on our own financially. It’s essential that before we proceed, we know we have the support of A.R.E. members and other like-minded friends in the Charlottesville area to make this dream a reality. We have the know-how. We just need your support. That’s why we would like to get an idea of the interest and level of commitment we can count on from you.

If you are like us and see that the time is right for us to come together to form a Center for spiritual growth based on the Cayce readings, please contact us and let us know:

1. Your interest in the Center as (a) an investor; (b) a practitioner renting space; (c) holding classes or meetings there; (d) volunteering there; (e) consignee with products for the bookstore.
2. You have a building/commercial space you’d like us to consider for rent or as a donation. We are looking for space that has kitchen facilities, break-out rooms, space for a bookstore and a large conference area that can seat up to 75 people.
3. You have things to donate, such as chairs, desks, tables, podium, shelves, white board, kitchen accessories, office supplies, cleaning supplies, books for library, electronics, etc.

If we get sufficient interest, we will proceed. Your ideas are greatly appreciated!

—Joanne
